2. Corporate Philosophy

Mission

To create a healthier and more creative society by enabling people and cats to work together.

Vision

To make workplaces where the presence of cats is a natural part of everyday life common throughout Japan.

Values

- Mutual respect
- Freedom to nap
- A healthy degree of capriciousness
- Never overexert yourself
- More fur, more awareness

3. Background of Establishment

IKURA INTERNET Inc. originated from research into employee welfare initiatives conducted within the Sakura Group.

In 2020, as remote work increased due to the outbreak of a new infectious disease, employee loneliness and insufficient communication were recognized as challenges. A volunteer-led internal pilot project found that opportunities to interact with cats could potentially contribute to employees' psychological safety and encourage conversation. Based on these findings, IKURA INTERNET Inc. was established as an independent organization specializing in mental wellness services provided by feline employees.

The company began operations with three rescued feline employees. It subsequently expanded recruitment and development through its proprietary "Feline Talent Development Program," and now employs 30 feline employees.

4. Business Activities

We provide a range of services delivered by feline employees to support the mental well-being of Sakura Internet employees and encourage workplace communication. The health, safety, and individual preferences of our feline employees are given the highest priority. They work under the supervision of veterinarians and feline employee operations staff.

Remote Work Home Visit Service

A feline employee stays for a half day at the home of a Sakura Internet employee working remotely. By napping near the employee and interacting during breaks, the feline employee helps reduce feelings of isolation and provides a refreshing change of pace during remote work. Visit assignments are determined by considering the feline employee's personality, travel time, the home environment, allergy information, and other relevant factors.

Online Meeting Participation Service

A feline employee joins remotely on camera in meetings that are likely to feel tense or that may otherwise lack a relaxing element. The appearance of a feline employee on screen encourages conversation at the start of the meeting and helps reduce psychological distance among participants. Feline employees do not speak, take minutes, or participate in decision-making.

Feline Employee Interaction Workspaces

Dedicated spaces where feline employees come to work are available at the Osaka Headquarters and Tokyo Branch of IKURA INTERNET Inc. Users can work while interacting with feline employees. Each space includes a rest room for feline employees, catwalks, work desks for human employees, and online meeting booths.

Emergency Comfort Support

When teams are responding to a major system outage or undertaking work that requires prolonged concentration, feline employees visit the relevant departments. They help employees take short breaks, interact, and reset mentally and physically. Feline employees are dispatched only to the extent that they do not interfere with incident response activities.

5. Message from the President

Based on the belief that “the presence of a cat can make the day just a little better,” we are committed to creating workplaces where cats and people work together.

Through my own on-site experience, including occupying keyboards during working hours and making surprise appearances in web meetings, I have witnessed many moments when employees regained their natural smiles.

We will continue taking on new challenges as a company that creates the mental breathing room that technology alone cannot provide.

Ikura
President and Representative Director

8. Meet Our Feline Employees

IKURA INTERNET Inc. has 30 feline employees. Each contributes to employee mental wellness activities by making the most of their individual personality. Five representative feline employees are introduced below.

Ikura | President and Representative Director

Age: 4

Sex: Male

Residence: Tokyo

Primary workplace: Tokyo Branch

Likes: Napping, sunbathing by the window, and inspecting new cardboard boxes

Dislikes: Vacuum cleaners, nail trimming, and being ignored during online meetings

Profile: The founding president, who has been with the company since its establishment. Although calm by nature, he is known for suddenly sitting on keyboards during meetings. He gives final approval to important matters with his paw and has made a major contribution to improving employee satisfaction.

Uni | Executive Officer and Head of Feline Employee Management

Age: 6

Sex: Female

Residence: Osaka Prefecture

Primary workplace: Osaka Headquarters

Likes: Brushing, patrolling from high places, and supervising humans at work

Dislikes: Thunder and being picked up without warning

Profile: A veteran employee responsible for managing feline employee schedules. She also trains new feline employees and is known internally as the “mother of the feline employees.”

Tarako | Senior Feline Employee

Age: 3

Sex: Male

Residence: Kanagawa Prefecture

Primary workplace: Remote Work Home Visit Service

Likes: Sleeping on laps, warm places near computers, and treats

Dislikes: Veterinary clinics and doorbells rung by delivery staff

Profile: The feline employee with the greatest number of visits to employees working from home. He adapts quickly to each destination and is highly rated by users for his relaxing presence.

Hotate | Feline Employee, Online Interaction

Age: 2

Sex: Female

Residence: Tokyo

Primary workplaces: Tokyo Branch and online meetings

Likes: Dropping into remote meetings, walking across the camera, and feather toys

Dislikes: Rooms that are too quiet and closed doors

Profile: Responsible for promoting online communication. Meeting participants often request, “Please put Hotate on camera,” and she excels at creating a friendly atmosphere at the start of meetings.

Shirasu | Feline Employee, Visitor Relations

Age: 5

Sex: Male

Residence: Hyogo Prefecture

Primary workplace: Osaka Headquarters

Likes: Greeting visitors, being petted, and cat towers

Dislikes: Health checkups and smelly shoes

Profile: A hospitality specialist responsible for the visitor area at the Osaka Headquarters. He actively greets people he has never met before and has been selected as the “Most Approachable Feline Employee” in the internal survey for three consecutive years.

Other Feline Employees

Many other experienced feline employees also work at the company. The 30 feline employees apply their strengths in a wide variety of roles, including veteran feline employees with experience in business trips throughout Japan, meeting-room patrol specialists, new employee training staff, lunchtime interaction event staff, nap-room operations staff, dedicated development-team support staff, and emergency comfort support staff during incident response.

9. Recruitment and Development of Feline Employees

IKURA INTERNET Inc. recruits feline employees after comprehensively assessing their health, personality, adaptability to different environments, and their own willingness to interact with people. After recruitment, employees participate in the Feline Talent Development Program, which supports gradual adaptation to workplaces, travel safety checks, and familiarization with cameras used in online meetings.

Key evaluation items include the ability to land naturally on a human lap, appropriately interrupt online meetings, cross keyboards skillfully, maintain high-quality naps, tolerate petting, and demonstrate integrity in relation to treats. However, no feline employee is required to perform unreasonable work on the basis of evaluation results.

10. Corporate Data

Average age of feline employees: 4.2 years

Average sleep time of feline employees: 14.8 hours per day

Average meeting participation per feline employee: 3.7 meetings per day

Monthly hairball production: Approximately 11.2 kg

Feline employee retention rate: 100%

Employee office attendance rate: 27% (depending on individual mood and physical condition)
